Merely a share in the province to be precipitally divided, not a share in the capital—that is a fund consecuted to the Church and the whole Church. North a defendation of the Church of to day but of all time to come, and one be left as intact and intensible, as was contemplated by the foundation of the Charity.

Having thus settled the general principles upon which the said account is stated, I proceed to consider the evidence by which it was sustained.

the evices at value, so other or better having been produced before me.

It was also obtended by the coursel for defendants that there should be a further addiction from the value of the Bock Covern a sestinated in the reports to the Annual Conferences, to the ground that the streetype plates had been twice estimated first as stelectype places; second, that they were again included in the estimates of the sheet stock. This seems to be contended upon the principle that after the place is two been prioted from they are reduced, to a certain extent, in value and that the distillation value of the places but the evidence appears to be that all due allowances were moder and the account therefore is stated without making the deduction daimed. In stating the said occount I have considered that the

In stating the said account I have considered that the annual dividence due and not paid to the Southern beneficiarly to be so much acked annually to the contral stock of the concern, upon which annual dividence in the time they respectively became due, interest at the of 7 per cent, is allowed down to the date of this libert, that the aggressic of said dividends, and the interest thereon, is to be deducted from the general fund, for the benefit of the Southern benefit at the said and the interest that the aggressic of said dividends, and the interest thereon, is to be exceeding the said of the entire benefit of the said according to the preportions of the traveling preschers.

In determining the number of traveling preschers, I have

In determining the number of traveling preachers. I have included the protesticers, or three preachers who have not traveled the verse, as beneficiaties of the final, they having been registed as such by the cherch, by being allowed to participate in it, at least to a certain extent, and if they were not within the meaning of the charty, thay had no right to perticipate in it at all; and in point of fact, they are literally traveling preachers.

right to perturbate in it at all; and in point of fact, they are literally traveling preachers.

In fixing the dates when the number of traveling preachers is to be estimated. I have taken the minutes of 1844 instead of 1846 considering from the "fortheeming minutes" referred to in the resolutions and in the decree of the Court—and also as being the most equitable, if the reson that it appears to have been considered by the General Conference of 1844, and it seems with reast justice, that if in pursuance of 1844, and it seems with reast justice, that if in pursuance of these resolutions the Church should be divided, the division should for this purpuse date back to 1844, and should be made upon the besis of matters as they stood at that time that if their recommendation should be adopted, there being no intermediate General conference, nor any intermediate general nature or cooperation, but each party acting separately and disconnectedly, through its Annual Conference, all conference, all conference and conference and conference are the stood of the story of the conference of the stood of the story of the conference of the story of the story of the story of the conference of the story of the sto

BROOKLYN ITEMS.

MILITARY ENCAMPMENT .- The grand | 3 do York, some five miles from Fulton Ferry. At an early hour the various military companies of Brooklyn and Williamsburgh were astir, ready to repair to the ground A special train of the Long Island Railroad cars was provided for the transportation of the military.

Arrived at E-st New-York, the troops took positions upon the camping territory-a spacious piece of ground lying south-west of the village.

After being inspected and receiving orders, they were displesed to their quarters. The appearance of the large plain which is the scene of operations, was exceedingly interesting. Over three hundred tents hed been pitched, and they contrasted prettily with the green sward beneath.

A survey of the entire scene almost led us to imagine we were on the "tented field" p logileg in the prepara tions of a battle. The strains of the distant music, now attering low, sweet melodious breathings-anon near ing and swelling with martial florceness-the array of w iformed men with bayonets glistening in the poorties sur-the shill sound of the buyles-the tattoo of the drum s-the rusbing to and fro of caparisoned chargers bearing men of military mien, all together formed al. most an illusion, and it seemed as though "a forman worthy of their steel" were the only thing necessary to render it perfect.

I pon the soldlers being dismissed they betook themteives to arranging their quarters. Three men were allotted to each tent. They had no difficulty in making their sleeping arrangements. A large quantity of straw satisfactorily supplied their was to un that score. Tast matter being disposed of, a highly important consideration yet remained to be attended to-the provender. No difficulty was experienced in regard to the cooking arrangements, the greater part of the different com" paties baving engaged colored men to cook for them. Their cooking utensils possessed all the charm of simpilchy, while from a hole in the ground or a few large stones, a cocking range was improvised, that no doubt answered all necessary purposes. The officers' quarters do not present any feature to especially distinguish them from those of the men. The following regiments were on the ground: 16th (Suffolk Co.) Infantry, Col. Hempstead; the 13th, Ia. fantry, Col. Smith : the 14th, Infantry, Col. Crooks, and the 19th. There was a large body of artiflery and cavalry also present. The appearance of the men left nothing to be desired. The Suffolk Co. Regiment at tracted much notice by their tasty uniform and excellest discipline. Though indeed it were invidious to particularize, luasmuch as in appearance and discipline all of them are worthy of compliment.

At 519 P. M., the troops were reviewed by M.jor Gen Wand, and at 61/2 P M. a grand military salate was fired by the artillery. The command to disperse was then given-guards were stationed at the outposts, and the militia soldiery " went into camp."

At a late hour, the bustle and hubbub of the day was over, and many a head sid low upon its straw pillows dreaming, perhaps of deeds of gallant daring, and of all the pomp and circumstance of glorious war. Camp fires were here and there burning, and forms of men in warlike attitude and costume gathered in groups about the tents and fires. The sentinels moved as measured in their tread, as sliently, sternly, and apparently as watchful as if delog real service. Alegether, the encampiment is a picture of the poetry of war, which may be viewed with admiration and pleasure, free from the terror, dread, and sad consequences of war in its fearful reality. This day will be the second, last and grand day of the stialr. At 11 o'clock A. M., G .r. WASHING Ten Hunt, accompanied by his atail, will review the military. It is expected that there will be a wast number of persons present.

ARRIVAL OF GOV. HENT AND STAFF. Treturday, about noon, Gov. WASHINGTON BUNT, and She arrived at the Mansion House, Brooklyn. To-day, at 11 o'clock. 4 M , they will review the raditary at the encampment at East New York; and at 4 o'clock P. M. the Governor, his staff, and a number of his friends will dire at the Mansion House. Gov. Hunt will remain in town Friday and Saturday. The following is a list of his staff officers:—Adjutant General L. Ward Smith, Inspector General B. F. Bruce, Judge Advocate General R. H. Pruyp, Quartermuster General Charles A. Stetson; Commissary-General Daniel Lee, Paymester General A. C. Kendrick, Englacer-In-Oblef James Watson Webb, Assistant-Adjutant General A. Much of this money will, however return to us in the course of the winter.

The receipts at the Sub-Treasury are $120,345; paid $49,435; baltance $7,148,211. It is rumored that large disbursements will be made from the Sub-Treasury during this and next week. The foreign news is not important, and has had no effect in our markets. The private letters will probably create some activity in produce. The steamer from Boston, to-day, takes aly $119,000 in gold, although it was rumord that a arge amount would go. Thomas Belknap, Esq., has been appointed President of the Connecticut State Bank, vice Solomon Porter, Esq., resigned.

The receipts of the Columbus and Xenia Otio) Rallway for the present year exceed largely the receipts for the corresponding period, month by month of last year. The Company will pay a 5 P cent. cirl drad, which will yet leave a large surplus. The fellowing is a condensed statement of the Com-made also at a considerable discount.

The Company own a canal one hundred and eighty six miles long, with seventy-four locks, second only to the Delaware—and the quality of its coal is semi-bituminous, securing an extensive consumption. The City of Chicago six P cent Water Loan, which was recently taken by Duncan, Sherman & Co., is now selling at par.

The receipts of the Rutland and Burdiagton Railroad for the months of June, July and Auguet, during three years past, were as follows:

1550. 1551. 1552. $54 676 20 $76,317 55 $134,108 66

The figures show a very handsome increase in the business. The gain of 1850 over 1850 is nearly 40 P cent., while the gain this year over 1851 is above 73 P cent.

The charter of the Cumberland Coal and Iron Company, granted by the State of Maryland, is a perpetual one, subject neither to alteration nor amend ment, without the consent of the stockholders, until after 1871. It authorizes the Company to issue $5,000,000 of stock, and to hold 12,000 acres of land, for coal and iron mining, and soal and iron transportation purposes in July the Company owned 7,000 acres of land, since when they have bought the property of the Maryland Mining Company.

At Boston there is a slightly increased demand for Money. The current rates are 5 d6 $

The earnings of the Western and Atlantic Railroad for the month of August, 1852, were $26,063 53; same time in 1851, $22,244 71. Increase for 1852 over 1851, $3,838 82.

The interest Coupons on the Buffalo, Corning and New-York Railroad Company's Bonds, due 1st October, will be paid at the Bank of Commerce. An old lead mine near Middletown, Conn , has receptly been reopened, and is being worked by Dr. Francfort with some success. The ore contains a considerable amount of silver, which adds materially to the profit of the operation. The Savannah Courier states that the Brunswick and Florida Railroad Company has closed a contract for pineteen theusand tuns of ratiroad fron.
